Green Bees Update

This weekend (24th-26th January), the RSPB needs your help for the Big Garden Birdwatch. Spend just one hour counting the birds around you and become a real wildlife scientist! Your observations help researchers understand which bird species are doing well or need protection. It's easy, fun, and makes a real difference for UK wildlife. Grab your binoculars and join in!

Mrs Miller's Message

During our whole school assembly this morning, some children in LKS2 shared what they have learnt during their trips to Hertford town this week. They spoke confidently about what they had learnt and observed during their visit. Thank you to the parents who have given their time to walk with the children around Hertford, ensuring these learning events can take place and be brought to life outside of the classroom.

There are a few important events happening in the coming weeks of this term so please make sure you have made a note of these from our diary dates on the website. Letters have gone out regarding our PTFA magic show and disco. Parent consultations will go live on Tuesday so make sure you book your appointment. We will also be celebrating world book day on Thursday 6th March so you may want to start thinking about your child's outfit in preparation for the day! More information will follow soon.

Attendance Matters

Supporting your child's school attendance

All parents of compulsory school-age children between the ages of 5 – 16, who are registered pupils at a school, have a legal duty to make sure that their child attends regularly and on time. Maintaining open lines of communication with school is essential. Stay informed about school policies, events, and important dates by regularly checking the school's website, newsletters, or communication platforms. This communication helps ensure you stay updated on any changes in attendance requirements or policies that may have legal implications. So please, always consult us for specific guidelines and seek guidance whenever needed.
